Making standards work®

Prof. Mark von Rosing is in every way an innovator affecting standards, frameworks, methods, and approaches internationally. In 1999, he founded the Global University Alliance (GUA), an international consortium of +450 university lecturers and researchers whose aim it is to provide a collaborative platform for academic research and analysis leading to the creation of de-facto enterprise standards.

He has been involved of developing 96 Enterprise Standards and 56 Industry Standards. Founder of 'LEADING Practice' the Enterprise Standard body, and also has had a significant or primary role in developing standards in the following standard bodies:

- World Wide Web Consortium (W3C): lead the World Wide Web development to its full potential by developing protocols and guidelines that ensure the long-term growth of the Web/Internet.
- ISO: coordinating the development of international standards among various national standards organizations. Currently focused on are ISO 42010, the Systems and Software Engineering Architecture Description, and ISO 279, the Innovation Standard.
- CEN: the European Committee for Standardization (CEN, French: Comité Européen de Normalisation). Developing and maintaining coherent sets of standards and specifications across the thirty-three member countries. More than 60,000 technical experts as well as business federations, consumer, and other societal interest organisations are involved in the CEN network that reaches over 460 million people.
- NATO: the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; developing standards for the intergovernmental military alliance organizations. Strategy and Performance Management is used for the collective defence joint mission execution, both in mutual defence in response to an attack by any external party as well as for peacekeeping missions. In addition, the standards from LEADING Practice related to capability modelling, joint Business Process Execution and Enterprise Architecture are used as basis for NATO standard development i.e. the NAF 4 (NATO Architecture Framework).
- Energetics: Development of the energy standard body, Energetics, Prof. von Rosing is part of developing the energy standards used by countries and companies around the world. This includes the standards used by the upstream oil and gas organizations; providing improvements for their business models, performance concepts, and process and data models.
- The Information Security Forum (ISF): development member of the Information Security Forum
- Object Management Group (OMG): develop joint standards between OMG and LEADING Practice. This includes:
  - Value Delivery Modeling Language (VDML), Business Motivation Modeling (BMM), Business Process Modeling Notations (BPMN), Decision Model and Notation (DMN) and Risk & Threat Modeling
