

Performance Map

Based on LEADing Practice Modelling & Architecture Principles and Reference Content

Table of Contents

Performance Map	1
What is a LEADing Practice Map	3
Performance Map	Error! Bookmark not defined.
How to use the Performance Map.....	3
Use of Copyrighted Material.....	6

What is a LEADing Practice Map

A LEADing Practice Map is an accurate list and representation of decomposed and/or composed meta objects. A map is often represented in the form of a simple list or a chart laid out in columns in either a document or a spreadsheet. It's appearance ranges from that of a single list of one object or that of multiple objects across multiple rows within one or more (specific) columns.

The purpose of constructing a LEADing Practice Map is to build an inventory or indexed list of objects that are to be either decomposed or composed for later usage within the business layer, information layer and/or technology layer of an enterprise. It is a powerful yet simple to use tool that allows the practitioner to document large amounts of information in a structured and coherent way.

Performance Map

The Performance Map provides you with a detailed overview of identified performances (each identified with a unique name and ID number), performance indicators, monitors, controls, performance expectations, performance drivers, organizational measures, reporting, locations, service measurements, process measurements, system measurements as well as application/system reporting.

How to use the Performance Map

Identify and capture performances (each identified with a unique name and ID number), performance indicators, monitors, controls, performance expectations, performance drivers, organizational measures, reporting, locations, service measurements, process measurements, system measurements as well as application/system reporting.

For example:

1. A performance may have multiple yet specific associations with internal and/or external value drivers, goals (business, information or technology), value expectations, value propositions, strategic business objectives (SBOs), objectives (plan, forecast, budget, etc.) as well as value indicators (CSF).
2. Multiple performances may have an association to any single specific internal and/or external value driver, goal (business, information or technology), value expectation, value proposition, strategic business objective (SBO), objective (plan, forecast, budget, etc.) as well as value indicator (CSF).

What	What			Why		Where	Who	Where				Who
Performance #	Performance Indicator	Monitor	Control	Performance Expectati	Performance Driver	Organizational Measure	Reporting	Location	Service Measurement	Process Measurement	System Measurement	Application/System Report
#
#
#
#
#
#
#
#
#
#

Table 1: The Performance Map.

Please note that the meta objects we have listed here are the most typical meta objects that are commonly used within a Performance Map, but there may be more (or fewer) relevant meta objects that are used within your organization. If that is the case, feel free to either add new ones, or remove any meta objects that are not relevant, or are otherwise unimportant, for this particular artefact.

Also note that the meta objects might have a different name in your organization, so make sure to adapt the meta objects of this artefact so that it fits to the taxonomy of your organization.

The meta objects involved with a Performance Map is shown in Table 2.

Meta Objects used within the Performance Map
Meta Object Notation	Meta Object Name	Meta Object Description
	Measure (performance indicators, organizational measures, service and process measurements)	An external or internal factor that drives, establishes motivation for or influences the direction of an enterprise.
	Monitor	To be aware of the state, through observation or measuring. To supervise and to continually check and critically observe. It means to determine the current status and to assess whether or not required or expected performance levels are actually being achieved.
	Control	The exercise of restraining or directing influence. It includes decision making aspects with accompanying decision logic necessary to ensure compliance.
	Expectation (performance expectations)	The anticipated benefits that are of worth, importance, and significance to a specific stakeholder.
	Driver (performance drivers)	An external or internal factor that drives, establishes motivation for or influences the direction of an enterprise.
	Report (reporting)	The exposure, description, and portrayal of information about the status, direction or execution of work within the functions, services, processes, and resources of the enterprise.
	Location	A point, facility, place or geographic position that may be referred to physically or logically.
	System Measurement	Measures that are defined and implementable within an application.
	Application/System Report	Reports that are defined and implementable or implemented within or by an application.

Table 2: Meta objects typically associated with the Performance Map.

Use of Copyrighted Material

These guidelines apply to all uses of “LEADing Practice’s material” that are protected by copyright (which among other things includes all text, images, software, documentation, screenshots, web sites, photographs, video footage, etc.) (“LEADing Practice’s material”), in whatever media they may be used (including print media, online media, books, articles, audiovisual works, blogs, wikis, or any other format or medium).

“LEADing Practice’s material” refers to all information and material contained standards, products, software, website, frameworks, methods, approaches with associated descriptions, categorization, classification, semantics relationship, ontology, meta objects, artifacts, maps, matrix and models, in whatever media they may be used (including print media, online media, books, articles, audiovisual works, blogs, wikis, or any other format or medium).

“LEADing Practice’s material” is Intellectual Property (IP) of LEADing Practice ApS and protected by copyright and limitations apply to the reuse of this IP. The Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) consists of information, knowledge, objects, artifacts, experience, insight and/or ideas, that are structured to enable reuse to deliver value creation and realization.

The LEADing Practice ApS intellectual property is protected by law, including, but not limited to, internationally recognized United States and European Union IPR copyright law. Except as specifically indicated otherwise in writing, LEADing Practice ApS is the owner of the copyright in the entire “LEADing Practice’s material” and LEADing Practice ApS reserves all rights in that regard.

Use or misuse of the IPR, the trademarks, service marks or logos is expressly prohibited and may violate country, federal and state law. The following limited situation where use is permitted without LEADing Practice prior written permission.

These guidelines apply to all uses of “LEADing Practice’s material” that are protected by copyright (which among other things includes all text, images, software, documentation, screenshots, web sites, photographs, video footage, etc.) (“LEADing Practice’s material”), in whatever media they may be used (including print media, online media, books, articles, audiovisual works, blogs, wikis, or any other format or medium).

“LEADing Practice’s material” refers to all information and material contained standards, products, software, website, frameworks, methods, approaches with associated descriptions, categorization, classification, semantics relationship, ontology, meta objects, artifacts, maps, matrix and models, in whatever media they may be used (including print media, online media, books, articles, audiovisual works, blogs, wikis, or any other format or medium).

“LEADing Practice’s material” is Intellectual Property (IP) of LEADing Practice ApS and protected by copyright and limitations apply to the reuse of this IP. The Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) consists of information, knowledge, objects, artifacts, experience, insight and/or ideas, that are structured to enable reuse to deliver value creation and realization.

The LEADing Practice ApS intellectual property is protected by law, including, but not limited to, internationally recognized United States and European Union IPR copyright law. Except as specifically indicated otherwise in writing, LEADing Practice ApS is the owner of the copyright in the entire “LEADing Practice’s material” and LEADing Practice ApS reserves all rights in that regard.

Use or misuse of the IPR, the trademarks, service marks or logos is expressly prohibited and may violate country, federal and state law. The following limited situation where use is permitted without LEADing Practice prior written permission.

- The LEADing Practice materials and all copies shall remain at all times the exclusive property of LEADing Practice ApS.
- LEADing Practice material CAN NOT BE REPRODUCED, MODIFIED, COPIED, AGGREGATED, DISTRIBUTED, TRANSMITTED, DISPLAYED, PUBLISHED, LICENSED, TRANSFERRED OR CREATE DERIVATIVE WORKS OR SELL ANY INFORMATION YOU AGAIN ACCESS TO THROUGH LEADING PRACTICE.
- You must use the LEADing Practice Materials without modification (except as may be necessary to resize or otherwise convert the LEADing Practice material to a permitted format).
- You must include the copyright notice “© <YEAR>. LEADing Practice, Source: A part of Enterprise Standard” and possibly indicate the LEADing Practice work product family, such as “Part of the LEAD Business Model Reference Content. All rights reserved.” [Note: you should insert the year as shown on the materials that you are using].
- You may not use the LEADing Practice Material in any offensive manner or context, for example in a way that is defamatory, disparaging or libelous to, or otherwise presents false or misleading information regarding, LEADing Practice or any other party, or its or their products or services; in conjunction with obscene or pornographic material; in a manner that suggests bias based on race, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, or religion; or in any manner that would be illegal under applicable law.
- You may not imply any LEADing Practice partner, sponsorship, affiliation or endorsement.
- You may not use the LEADing Practice Material for a purpose competitive with LEADing Practice or its products unless otherwise clearly permitted by applicable law.
- You may not use the LEADing Practice corporate logo.
- No use of other LEADing Practice trademarks is granted under this section.

Third parties wishing to use “LEADing Practice’s material” that are protected by copyright must have LEADing Practice’s permission to do so. In some situations described below, LEADing Practice gives you that permission so long as you comply with the requirements stated. In others cases, you must obtain LEADing Practice’s written consent. If you don’t already have a contract with LEADing Practice that clearly gives you such rights, please contact LEADing Practice to request such permission.

LEADing Practice ApS may, in appropriate circumstances of infringement of the intellectual property rights pursue legal action. For questions, please get in touch with us.